SEALINE F430

The flybridge on the Sealine F430 was designed with just one goal in mind: to make you want to spend every moment on it. You sail into the rising sun while enjoying the open-air helm. You take in the setting sun during an al fresco dinner. The time in between is spent on the large sun lounge or partaking of freshly grilled delights directly from the kitchen ensemble in the rear of the flybridge.

You have everything your heart desires on the flybridge. But because the allure of a true Sealine lies in its variety of options, the F430 also offers alternative spaces of leisure for you and your family. The cockpit below the flybridge casts shade and can be equipped with an additional outdoor barbecue. The bow awaits you with a huge sun lounge featuring adjustable cushions to create a backrest.

For many lovers of a maritime lifestyle, the sunset is a highlight of the day. The interplay of lights on the Sealine F430 sets the perfect scene for any summer evening. Whether you are already in the harbour or anchored along the coast, a carefully harmonised mix of pop-up lighting and ceiling spots lends every moment its true magic.

A FIRST IN CLASS: 3 DOUBLE CABINS ACROSS 43 FEET

With the Sealine F430, voyages are so luxurious that you will want to share them with others. As the F430 is the world's first 43-foot yacht which can be outfitted with three double cabins on request, up to six guests can enjoy a unique experience.

The Sealine F430 hull cuts sharp through the waves. This means the Sealine is exceptionally stable in the water, and you can feel the higher boating comfort as a result.
